CHALLENGES

Food manufacturers and distributors like Gerber Poultry face a host of complex regulations to ensure safety. Ursula and team relied on outdated video content to train employees and were forced to track attendance via sign-in sheets. And with many Spanish-speaking employees, Gerber’s trainer spent much of her time translating the content and logging the data.

HR PAIN POINT

- Tracking training attendance manually
- Outdated training content
- Cumbersome reporting process
- No centralized system to track completions

WITH PAYCOR

After implementing Paycor LMS, Gerber Poultry has transformed their training program. Employees can complete courses via a computer or Paycor’s mobile app. Bi-lingual courses have eliminated the need to translate content, and Ursula can instantly access the necessary reports in the event of an audit. She’s even seen an improvement in engagement and overall morale because the solution is so interactive.
